

Internal Legal Counsel

Neuromod, headquartered in the Digital Hub, Dublin, Ireland, is an emerging medical technology company, specialising in the design and development of neuromodulation technologies to address the clinical needs of underserved patient populations, who live with chronic and debilitating tinnitus. After completing large scale clinical trials, Neuromod has started to commercialise its first product offering Lenire® in late 2019.

We're looking for an enthusiastic Internal Legal Counsel, to join our dynamic team at Neuromod. This is a great opportunity for someone looking to experience a varied and fast paced environment in a growing innovative medical device company. If you are commercially focused with excellent communication and drafting skills and have a "can-do" attitude, this could be the position for you. You must be confident in your ability to work with, support and advise stakeholders from across the business, including senior management.

Key duties & responsibilities

- Drafting, negotiating, reviewing, and advising on a broad range of international commercial contracts, licensing agreements, NDAs, and other such agreements in the normal course company business.
- Play a key role in the management and organisation of the company's contracts including oversight of the contracts database.
- Structure/maintenance of intercompany agreements between Neuromod entities.
- Provide comprehensive, accurate and practical advice regarding various legal issues including corporate/commercial, company policies, privacy, IP matters and risk tolerance
- Advising on all manner of GDPR, data privacy and security issues, data protection, drafting data processing agreements and updating policies.
- Monitor and keep abreast of legal developments and legislative changes that may impact business and our company goals.
- Manage administration of IP portfolio and help prepare materials for internal and investor communications on IP portfolio
- Act as key company representative in the management of external counsel support global IP portfolio
- Engage and liaise with external counsel (managing and minimising costs to the extent possible)
- Any other duties as requested

Key attributes we're looking for:

- A qualified solicitor with minimum 3 years' PQE
- Experience in commercial contract review and drafting
- Experience advising on GDPR, data privacy and security matters
- Knowledge of Medical Device Regulation (EU) 2017/745
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills with ability to distil complex issues clearly and communicate well both one-on-one and in groups, and in internal and external contexts

Job Description

- Proficient drafting and legal technical skills, with keen attention to detail
- Proven commercial awareness – ability to deliver legal advice in a practical and commercial manner
- Proven track record of working both on own initiative and collaborating as part of a team
- Ability to prioritize own workload and work to deadlines
- Pro-active and facilitative approach
- Excellent Microsoft office skills
- Knowledge of legal issues in IP preferred

What we offer

- A varied and challenging role within an innovative scaling company.
- Flexible work environment/hybrid working options.
- Team spirit.
- Competitive remuneration.

For further information please contact Aoife McNally aoife.mcnally@neuromoddevices.com